SAIEG invites all interested parties to attend the 9th prestigious Tony Brink Memorial Lecture in DURBAN.

A SIX DECADE GEOTECHNICAL AND ENGINEERING GEOLOGY JOURNEY

by Dr Gary Jones

More about Dr Gary Jones

Gary Jones graduated in 1957 at Cambridge. Some years later he was awarded his PhD at the University of Natal for research on the development of the piezocone for the determination of the geotechnical properties of the alluvial deposits along the eastern coast of South Africa.

He began his career in Zimbabwe and followed this with spells in the UK and Uganda before settling in South Africa where he worked for consultants, the Natal Roads Department and the CSIR before joining SRK Consulting.

Having retired from SRK in 1998 he became a corporate consultant for them and also an extraordinary professor at the University of Pretoria. Gary is the author of fifty papers and publications on a variety of geotechnical subjects and has received the Jennings Award, the Geotechnical Gold Medal and is an Honorary Fellow of SAICE.
